

Codebook:

Date: Date of the S&P 500 data. Historically, the market is open for 252 of the 365 days of the year. It is closed on weekends and on national holidays.

Open: This is the price that the S&P Index was priced at when the market opened. The market opens at 9:30 AM Eastern Time every morning.

High: This is the highest price that the S&P Index reached during open hours of trading.

Low: This is the lowest price that S&P Index reached during open hours of trading.

Close: This is the price that the S&P Index was priced at when the market closed. The market closes at 4:00 PM Eastern Time every afternoon.

Adjusted Close: This is the price of the S&P Index adjusted after all applicable splits and dividend distributions.

Volume: The number of shares traded during open market hours.